

what is your real life social network?

Directions: After going through The Real Life Social Network presentation by Paul Adams, you are going to break down your social network using the space below like described in the presentation. When you are done, reflect on your groups and how they translate to real life, relationships you wouldn't normally have if not for social media, and your online identity and is it what you want it to be? Who are your biggest influencers? How do you see online relationships and communication influencing your future? After the presentation, what are your views on the differences between ethics and the law (what people can legally post).
